Hi Jeff,

Thanks for your patience. Attached is the draft text we discussed. I had Martin take a look at an earlier version and he provided edits as well although I believe his is intending to also take a look at the last section on data gap analysis. There are some comment bubbles in the data gathering and analysis sections and I would be happy to revise however you see fit. Currently there is a table in the data analysis section that, if the table is useful, will benefit from some updating.

Thanks and have a great weekend! I'm working today if you need anything with a quick turnaround.

Kellie
